"In my hilarlous appreciation I was more of an entertainment than they had on the stuge, especially as I was utterly oblivious of the fact that I didn't look like any one else in the audience. Toward the end a huge fellow came out, tossed camon balls in the air, held men out at arm's length and lifted heavy weights. After this showing of his proweas he offered $10 to any one whom he could not throw itself of two minutes. I was the crack vestler in our section, though none present knew it, and I felt as though the challenge was aimed directly at me. I turned bot and cold during a few seconds of intense silence. Then I sprang up and as I came out of my old blouse shouted: 'I'll go you, b'gosh!' There was a roar of laughter and then some of them about me urged me not to go up there and have my neck broken. But one old man told me to go in. It was a tough job, but I flaally threw the pient s'rest through the floor with a hip but. There was a little hesitancy about giving me the $10, but the crowd shouted (ill I got it. WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—A cable-gram was received at the State Department at 1 o'clock this efternoon from Consul General Lee, at Havana, stating that everything was tranquil.

The official advices from Havana received by the Spanish minister, Mr. Dupuy de Lome, continue to be reassuring: A dispatch sent at 8 o'clock last evening said that the city was perfectly after midnight and received early this morning stated that a few people gathered in the public park about 10 o'clock last night. There were no demonstrations and under ordinary circumstances no attention would have been given to it, as the park is the entiral public point of Havana, As a matter of precaution, however, the patrol of soldiers on duty asked the people to move away and this they did without demonstration or the exercise of any force.

By 12 o'clock the troops were back in their quarters. No surprises would be felt if there were sporadic gatherings of groups in a city of Havana's size, particularly Sunday, when the streets are usually filled with those otherwise engaged during the week. This customary outpouring of the people doubtless will occur tomorrow and it may serve as an inventive for the congregating of groups, but it is said this should not be misconstitud into a public demonstration, and no uncasiness whatever fet that it will occasion more than a few vivas even if that much occurs.
